Association Philosophy

From the Power Academicion to Change the World

Academicion are professional educators who work in certain higher education units. Academicion are often referred to as Scientists because of the capacity of knowledge they have. The main task of a Academicion is to develop and disseminate science, technology, and art. In addition to conducting academicion and tutorials, academicion are expected to continue to conduct research in their fields of expertise and provide guidance to students. As a scientist, academicion need to regularly publish scientific papers and research results at academic conferences. The Association of Asia Pacific Academicion Development aims to realize the expertise of each member of the Asia Pacific Academicion community according to their profession. That the guidance and development of the Association of Asia Pacific Academicion (ASIA) will increase the dedication of this profession in the Development of the Asia Pacific, which in essence is the complete Human Development of the Asia Pacific and the Development of World Society.

With our insatiable appetite for new challenges and commitment to ongoing education progress, you can expect great things from the future of the ASIA.

Inspiration for Innovation

Our Association of Asia Pacific Academicion Slogan is Together we can achieve excellent in education.

ASIA FUNDAMENTAL VALUES

Many instructors, students, staff, and administrators embrace the principles of academic integrity because they know the goals of teaching, learning, research, and service can only be accomplished in ethical environments. Despite that, scholarly institutions rarely identify and describe their commitment to the principles of integrity in positive and practical terms. Instead, they tend to address academic integrity by identifying and prohibiting behaviors that run counter to the principles of integrity.
